

Normans have dealt with Signal for many years now, and we have to say that we couldn't ask for a better telecoms' provider.

We have a fantastic relationship with all the staff at signal who are long standing which says a lot about a company. The service is second to none, everyone at signal will always do their very best for us whether it's looking at better deals, upgrading contracts, support, advice, etc.

They always keep us in the loop and it's always a pleasure dealing with them. We can honestly say we have not had any issues whilst dealing with them therefore we will always stay loyal.

Normans would always recommend them to others and would like to thank everyone at Signal for looking after us and giving us outstanding service.
